

"As the founder of many successful businesses and a charitable organization, I often encounter difficult and sometimes sensitive situations that require immediate responses. Jeff is always reliable and readily available to work with me and my staff to address the legal and business needs of our organizations. Over the years, I have developed a close working relationship with Jeff and have come to expect quality advice regarding my corporate, non-profit and personal legal needs. Jeff understands our larger business objectives and never fails to keep in our goals when fashioning a legal strategy. We know that we can trust Jeff to listen to our needs and concerns, to follow through on his promises, and to actively find innovative solutions to each new challenge. His experience and proactive approach have proven invaluable to the complex and ever-changing issues in my computer software and maintenance businesses. Additionally, his firm provides a personal touch which makes our charitable clients feel comfortable and confident in his advice. I know that I can trust his guidance to be in my best interest and in the best interest of my organizations. I emphatically recommend Jeffrey Antonelli and his firm."

John C. Blanchard, Founder and CEO
National Association of Systems Administrators, Inc.
National Association of Systems Administrators Corporation
National Association of Systems Administrators Education Corporation